German for Children, Teenagers and Adults
Dear friends around the world,

2020 was in many ways an extraordinary year. From one day to another, a virus turned the whole world upside down.

However, we also take away a lot of positive experiences: For example, the understanding and loyalty of all students whose courses could not take place as planned, or the positive feedback we received for our online courses – a novelty at the Humboldt-Institut.

We were all the more delighted in summer when, after many months of uncertainty, students were finally able to travel to Germany again to start their German courses and make new friends.

Today, we are looking forward to 2021 with confidence and hope for an economic recovery in all industries and the complete lifting of travel restrictions.

We are also looking forward to all of the students that we hope to welcome to our institutes. The various course options and all news are summarized in this brochure. We provide further information and images on our website www.humboldt-institut.org/en/.

We wish you a healthy, happy and successful year and look forward to your next visit to the Humboldt-Institut!

Yours,

Norbert Güthling   Lennart Güthling

A Faster Road to Success
No other school prepares its participants more quickly or efficiently for the TestDaF or telc Deutsch C1 Hochschule exams for German as a foreign language. Beginners with no prior knowledge of German can successfully pass both exams after just 8 months at the Humboldt-Institut.

Recognized Exams
Humboldt offers the TestDaF, TestAS and telc exams, which are internationally recognized and improve students’ chances in academics and their careers.

Transparent Costs
Our prices are transparent. Course fees generally include instruction, room and full board, course materials, extracurricular activities and excursions. There are no hidden costs!

Safety and Support Around the Clock
We provide support and supervision for our children and teens 24 hours a day. Someone they can trust and talk to is always nearby.

Family Atmosphere
Humboldt-Institut schools are boarding schools, a format that enhances students’ success and their enthusiasm for the program’s community experience.

We do everything we can to make our students feel at home from their very first day with us.

Studying Throughout the Year
Our year-round centers offer German instruction 365 days a year.

As you can see, the Humboldt-Institut optimizes student success in the shortest possible amount of time, all while making it fun to study in a motivating, German-language learning environment.

We have the right German program for you!
Instruction

Types of Programs
One of the Humboldt-Institut’s strengths is the intensity of instruction due to the high amount of lessons per week, the small class sizes as well as our own curriculum. The following types of programs are available:

- Intensive Course 30
  30 lessons per week
- Intensive Course 25
  25 lessons per week
- One-to-one Intensive Course 25, 30, 40
  25, 30 and 40 lessons per week

Classes
Classes are held Monday through Friday except on some bank holidays. One-to-one courses are taught regardless of bank holidays. Each class lasts for 45 minutes and is averaging 10 students. Classroom instruction focuses on listening and reading comprehension, writing skills, speaking skills and grammar.

Finding the Right Level
All students are expected to take a placement test on the day of arrival or the first day of their course. Based on their results students will be assigned to a class of their level. During the summer months the first day is reserved for the placement test, i.e., the rest of the day is generally for orientation without instruction.

We distinguish the following 6 levels according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR):

<table>

The duration is based on courses with 30 lessons per week.

Online Placement Test
If you wish to test your German skills in advance, you may do so by taking our online test: einstufung.humboldt-institut.org

However, the online placement test is not a substitute for the placement test which is held on the first day of classes.

Homework
Teachers daily assign homework so that students can build upon what they have learned and be prepared for class. Homework assignments are of reasonable size so that students still have plenty of time for extracurricular activities. Written homework is corrected and handed back to students so that they can monitor their progress.

Teachers
Our teachers are highly trained native speakers with university degrees, who use modern teaching methods.

Teaching Material
The Humboldt-Institut provides its students with all of the course materials and textbooks they need at no charge.

Weekly and Skill-level Tests
Participants in all programs take a weekly test so that students and teachers can assess the progress made during the preceding week. Comprehensive exams are written at the conclusion of each level.

Certificates
At the end of the program after a final exam all participants are awarded a certificate confirming the number of lessons attended as well as the skill level that the student has achieved. Grades are given for listening and reading comprehension, oral and written expression and grammar skills.

Bank Holidays (Without Lessons)
- 01.01., 02.04. (Berlin-Mitte and Constance only)
- 24.05. (Berlin-Mitte and Constance only)
- 01.11. (Bad Schussenried, Lindenberg and Constance only)
- 01.01., 02.04. (Berlin-Mitte and Constance only), 01.11. (Bad Schussenried, Lindenberg and Constance only)

Online Courses

Our flexible range of live online courses enables students who cannot travel to Germany to attend a German course or who would like to continue studying after a German course at the Humboldt-Institut, to access the high quality German courses of the Humboldt-Institut from the comfort of their home.

We use YuLinc as a platform, which has proven itself in use with students from all over the world. This powerful learning platform offers virtual rooms for lessons and group work as well as a media library. The courses and communication take place in the browser (e.g. Chrome, Firefox). You need a computer or laptop with headphones, microphone and camera. Smartphones or tablets are not suitable for attending the online classes.

Accommodation and Board
In all course centers we offer a full package including accommodation, full board and leisure activities. The course centers work like boarding schools and the student rooms are usually in the same building as the classrooms are. This combination is very comfortable and offers short distances. Students in Lindenberg and Berlin-Mitte also stay with host families.

Transfers
Transfers to and from the airport are done as group transfers. However, efforts are made to keep the waiting time of individual students down to one hour. Please inquire about the fees for transfers which take place outside of the traditional arrival and departure days (Sunday / Saturday).

Outside of Class
Our after-class program keeps students active and offers a wide variety of options, with program supervisors motivating even shy students to participate in activities.

Supervision
Supervisors answer questions and solve problems while maintaining a positive, committed attitude towards all of the students’ questions and concerns. They make sure that school rules are observed day and night at locations hosting children and teenagers, while guaranteeing reliable, round-the-clock supervision for all underage students.

Excursions
Every Saturday our staff organizes and accompanies full-day excursions to attractive destinations. On Wednesdays, our students take part in half-day trips to sights and interesting cities nearby. Excursions and entrance fees are already included in the course fee for children and teenagers. For adults in Berlin-Mitte and Constance, the entrance fees are not included in the course fee.

telc

telc gGmbH (The European Language Certificates) is an internationally recognized test provider. Language certificates offered by telc are geared towards the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, making them internationally comparable and improving students' educational and professional opportunities.

telc Deutsch A1 – B2

These general language exams let you show how well you have mastered the German language in daily situations, such as trips, leisure activities or at work. Each exam consists of a written individual test as well as an oral exam conducted with another student or in a group.

telc Deutsch A1 Junior

The child-friendly format of this exam is geared towards our youngest learners. The test does not take long to complete, which, along with its use of pictures and its simple and easy-to-understand tasks, tailors it to the cognitive abilities of children.

telc Deutsch A2 and B1 Schule

Since their format corresponds to that of general language exams, these exams for secondary school students are equivalent to the more general exams. The telc Deutsch Schule exams, however, also cover subject matters geared specifically to young people's life and to what they know, i.e., their leisure time, their friends, what they do for fun, and what it's like to live in another country. A telc exam also allows children and teenagers to demonstrate their commitment, interest and determination.

telc Deutsch C1 Hochschule

This exam is geared towards adults who would like to demonstrate their German language skills because they wish to begin studying, are already studying or hope to work in an academic field at a German university. This exam tests advanced German skills needed at university level.

TestAS

The TestAS (test for foreign students) is a centralized, standardized test that assesses the aptitude of foreign students for university studies. For interested students from abroad, the TestAS result provides information on how they compare to other applicants and increases the chance for admission to a German university.

Exam dates and the registration form can be found on www.testas.de.

TestDaF

(“Test Deutsch als Fremdsprache”) The TestDaF exam demonstrates that a candidate has sufficient German skills for admission to a German university if he or she earns the minimum TestDaF level of 4 in each of the four exam sections. As a standardized exam for meeting university language requirements, the TestDaF is the equivalent of the DSH exam, while offering numerous other advantages: students may take the exam as many times as they wish and, thanks to the uniformity of the exam, they can target specific areas as they prepare.

The TestDaF also provides evidence of language ability for anyone who wants to do research in Germany or who wants to document high language skills.

Humboldt students with no prior knowledge of German would need roughly 8 months to reach the required level of language skills. The Humboldt-Institut has licensed testing centers in Constance and Berlin-Mitte. The TestDaF will also be carried out electronically in 2021. Up-to-date information can be found on our website.

The Concept
"Made in Germany" is a synonym for quality the world over, and studying in Germany gives international students a clear edge over their competitors on the international job market. Germany compares well to the rest of the world in terms of higher education, offering high quality and ideal research opportunities. Plus, studying in Germany is quite affordable compared to other countries.

The Program
Invest in your future today: the Humboldt-Institut provides consultation and support to students in our intensive courses seeking university placement in Germany. We will review your high-school and/or other academic records from your home countries and determine whether you qualify for direct or indirect admission to a German university.

Our course centers in Berlin’s Mitte district and in Constance help incoming university students reach the language level they need (B1/B2 for preparatory programs and C1 for universities) in an extremely short period of time. You will stay in affiliated guest accommodations, where you will live right on site in an international – yet German-speaking – environment so you can dedicate your full attention to your German studies. Room and full board plus after-class activities (entrance fees not included) are included in course fees.

The optional application service covers a total of 3 applications at universities in Germany. We make sure that your application is complete and submitted on time to maximize your chances of getting admitted to university in Germany.

- Language skills required for applying to the preparatory program: B1/B2

Schmallenberg is a typical town in the Sauerland, an area known as the “land of a thousand mountains.” Anyone who has ever been there will understand why the region has a reputation as one of Germany’s most popular vacation destinations. With 26,000 residents, Schmallenberg is a quiet resort town with a charming, historical city center studded with half-timbered houses and narrow alleys.

Our students are guests at the Bad Fredeburg Academy, which is located in a district of Schmallenberg. The very picturesque center of this little town is only a few minutes’ walk from the school. Classes take place in the local school, only 150m away from the academy. The academy is located in a very quiet area surrounded by parks. Schmallenberg is especially popular for its flexible system of courses, with weekly arrival and departure.

Mountains so close you can almost touch them: located in the middle of the Allgäu region – a popular holiday destination – Kempten’s location is ideal for day trips to the peaks of the Allgäu Alps, to Lake Constance and to the world-famous Neuschwanstein Castle. The neighboring countries of Austria and Switzerland are a short trip from the school, as is the Munich metropolitan area. Even the Romans appreciated this favorable location, founding their city of Cambodunum and making Kempten one of the oldest cities in Germany. Whether you are interested in the many recreational opportunities in the surrounding area or in a stroll through downtown, Kempten has plenty to offer, no matter what your tastes.

Düsseldorf

ages 14-18

With a population of some 600,000 inhabitants, Düsseldorf is seen as one of Germany’s most interesting and popular major cities. Enjoy a stroll along the banks of the Rhine at the “Rheinuferpromenade” which links the traditional historic city center with the contemporary media harbor. The “Kö,” the bustling shopping street, is another wonderful place to take in the sights, and as a cultural metropolis, Düsseldorf appeals to people from around the world. The city on the Rhine is famous for the joie de vivre of its residents, and it has an almost Mediterranean flair, particularly in the summer. Our house offers high-standard accommodations and is located directly on the Rhine with a view of the historic city center. Most major sightseeing attractions are within easy walking distance.

Vienna (Austria)

ages 15-18

Vienna, the city with the highest quality of life in the world, unites tradition and modernity in its own unique way. With 1.8 million inhabitants, Vienna is both Austria’s capital and its largest city – and the site of the first and only Humboldt-Institut center in neighboring Austria. A true highlight of this program site is the location of our German courses: on board of a school ship right along the Danube island! After class, Vienna also offers what may be the world’s finest cultural scene: besides the old town and Schönbrunn Palace, both of which are UNESCO World Cultural Heritage sites, Vienna also boasts countless royal residences and palaces, museums, famous buildings and landmarks, the most internationally known of which are St. Stephen’s Cathedral and the Ferris wheel in the Prater park. But architectural monuments are not all that Vienna has to offer: coffeehouses, Sachertorte, Wiener Schnitzel and the Naschmarkt – the city’s wide variety of attractions cater to every taste!

The former mining town Hamm is nowadays known for its varied cultural offers and many public green spaces, among them Maximilian Park with its glass elephant, one of the major landmarks of the city. The spacious school premises of Heessen Castle combine tradition and modern comfort and offer our young guests not only a great variety of leisure time opportunities, but also a school canteen which is certified by the German Nutrition Society. There are many attractive destinations in the region for our Saturday excursions, among them the metropolis Cologne, with the world famous cathedral "Kölner Dom" and one of the children’s all time favorites, the chocolate museum.

We are pleased to offer a German course that you can take at the same location as your child. Held in the mornings, your class will be separate from the children’s classes, as the course contents will be different: children’s courses aim to improve all of the language skills your child will need later on when taking German classes at home; the objective for parents, however, is to teach practical German that will be useful for everyday life. Course offerings cover levels A1 through A2. While you will be housed separately from the children (in private rooms in the castle) and participate, in some cases, in separate recreational activities, weekend excursions will be offered for parents and children together.

Going to school and living abroad for a period of time fosters adolescents’ development and ensures a successful future for them in a job market that is becoming more and more international – studying in Germany would enhance any resume. Our "Going to school in Germany" program is geared towards highly motivated students between ten and seventeen years of age, and offers them the chance to participate in regular classes in German boarding schools. Upon successfully completing the leaving exams of a German boarding school program (the Abitur), students here will qualify for admission to a German university.

Prerequisites
Besides having to demonstrate generally above average academic performance, foreign candidates must also have sufficient knowledge of the German language to be admitted to a German school. This is why they are asked first of all to attend an intensive German language course for several months at our language center in Bad Schussenried (see page 22) or in Lindenberg (see page 24). Having completed level B2, students will be integrated into a class at a college preparatory boarding school appropriate to their age and abilities.

Transition Courses in Bad Schussenried and in Lindenberg
Our schools in Lindenberg and in Bad Schussenried offer our students ideal conditions to feel at ease and get used to a life in Germany. High-quality courses paired with a small number of students per class assure that students pick up the language quickly and thoroughly.

Program Schedule
Depending on their prior skill level, students will need approx. two to six months to reach the required level of German (completion of Humboldt level B2). Afterwards, we offer a 5-week transition course (see page 50). Upon completion of this transition course, students can transfer to a German boarding school. The Humboldt-Institut cooperates with highly respected boarding schools throughout Germany and will gladly help students find the right school.

School Transition Course

The Concept
After having successfully completed Humboldt level B2, our students will be able to continue their education in Germany at a Gymnasium. Here they can complete their leaving exams (see p. 48 / Secondary Education in Germany), which will qualify them for admission to a German university. In order to ease the transition between the German course and school attendance, we offer a special transition course aimed at teaching the terminology and methodology in the most important subject areas taught in school.

Content
The school transition course is organized into subject area modules such as the natural sciences (mathematics, physics, biology, chemistry) and the humanities (history, politics, geography, religion). The fine arts are covered as well. In addition to acquiring important technical vocabulary, students also learn how to summarize texts, work with sources, perform research and give presentations.

Prerequisites
- Students may only enroll after successfully completing Humboldt level B2.

Role-playing simulation games and project work also teach students how to work in group settings.

Prep Year for Upper-Level Students

The Concept
The unique feature of the Prep Year for Upper-Level Students program is regular rotation between attending German classes and a regular secondary school, with students alternating between the Humboldt-Institut in Bad Schussenried and the Schloss Bieberstein boarding school.

Program Schedule
The program begins with a German course at Bad Schussenried, after which students alternate between Bieberstein and Bad Schussenried at intervals lasting multiple weeks at a time. Transportation between the two schools is included. The prep year ends in July, and by that time students will be expected to have successfully completed B2.2 level language requirements.

Prerequisites
Applicants for the prep year will need to demonstrate that they have performed well at school in their home country, that their English skills are good, that they have completed at least the 9th grade and that they are between 15 and 18 years of age. No prior knowledge of German required.

The Concept
The “Boarding School Experience” program is a combination of a German course at the Humboldt-Institut and a boarding school stay at one of our selected partner boarding schools across Germany. Students will start with an intensive German course at our course center in Bad Schussenried. After the German course they will continue their stay at the school of their choice and experience the daily life at a German boarding school.

Program Schedule
This specially designed experience program will allow international students to collect their first impressions of living and studying at a German school. Not only will they be able to improve their active German language knowledge during their stay, they will also be introduced to German culture, landmarks and traditions. While school grades are not in the foreground of this program, students shall have a high motivation to make the most of their experience — including an improvement of their overall academic skills.

Prerequisites
Students are between 10 and 17 years old and their passport qualifies them to travel to and stay in Germany visa free. In addition, applicants should have previous knowledge of German and completed at least A2 level (300-500 lessons). Furthermore, students should be willing to spend at least two to three months in Germany and are highly motivated to integrate themselves into a boarding school community and become an active part of the daily life.

Additional Information
More information as well as the dates & fees are available on our website www.boarding-schools-germany.org under “Special Programs”.

The Lindenberg Gymnasium (grades 5 - 12) offers two distinct educational tracks, one oriented towards language and one towards the natural sciences and technology. In addition to pure classroom instruction – instruction that meets the highest professional and pedagogical standards – the school also aims to educate its students to become engaged, tolerant and responsible human beings. Viewed from this perspective, school becomes a place that offers students life experience and helps them shaping their personalities. Students are not only encouraged to perform well and develop their talents – social responsibility, environmental consciousness and respect also play critical roles in the school community.

Visas
If you need a visa, we will send you an invitation to the language program once you have received your enrollment and program confirmation. You will then need to request a visa from your nearest German foreign office (embassy or consulate). We will be happy to provide assistance should you have any difficulties obtaining a visa. In cases like these, please contact us immediately.

Arrival and Departure
Day of arrival is Sunday before a course begins. Day of departure is Saturday. Classes are held from Monday till Friday.

Transfer Services
We provide group transportation to and/or from the airports indicated in the program descriptions for a fee. Please indicate on your booking form if you would like to make use of this service. If you do, our program supervisors will pick you up in either a car or a minibus when you arrive at the airport or railway station and, if desired, will take you back at the end of the program. Occasionally, coaches are used for transfers in addition. Transportation to and from the indicated railway stations is free. If you do not know your arrival time and flight number when you enroll, please provide us with this information 1 week before you depart so that we can organize transportation. Longer waits may result for anyone who is late in submitting his/her information. We must be advised beforehand if a person is travelling as an Unaccompanied Minor (UM).

Pocket Money
For children and teenagers we recommend € 30.- to € 40.- per week.

Laundry
Free laundry services are provided at nearly all course centers. Coin-operated washing machines are provided at the other course centers generally.

Responsibility for Minors
The managing director of the Humboldt-Institut and/or an employee authorized by the director will assume responsibility for minors through out the duration of the language course, i.e., this individual will assume the rights and responsibilities associated with the rights of parental custody.

Latin Alphabet
Participants attending a German course at the Humboldt-Institut must already have a good command of the Latin alphabet or must learn the alphabet with us in individual sessions prior to beginning the program.

News
In addition to the newly acquired language skills, a German course is also rich in great experiences, varied activities and new friends. You can follow our students and their activities online: See the our blog at www.humboldt-institut.org/en/blog/ for news and stories about our students and schools or follow us on Instagram and Facebook!

School Regulations
All students have to abide by the school rules. In case of a severe offense, the school authorities reserve the right to exclude a student from a course.

Cancellation of Enrollment
Cancellation can be made either by email, fax or mail. For a cancellation made up to four weeks before a course begins, a fee of € 50.- is payable. Up to 14 days before a course begins, a fee of € 200.- and thereafter € 500.- is payable. In case of non-appearance without previous cancellation, a four weeks’ fee is forfeited.
